When you're from Massachusetts, there are all kinds of stereotypes that follow you around. People listen to see if you drop the letter "r" when you speak. Do you "pahk your cah in Hahvahd Yahd", or as the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority noted on their signs, do you "Use Yah Blinkah!"? Are you as good of a driver as your Massachusetts reputation tells them you will be? And are you liberal/Irish/educated/not-educated or whatever else they may think of Boston-folk on any given day? Yes, Boston and its burbs have a reputation. But we, dear friends, we are of Woburn.

Only we know the rush of a successful grade on a math test because we know how many hours we studied to get that grade. And we know the pain of having our coffee repored by Mr. Deldon in the morning. We've lugged our history books up four flights of stairs, with our backs aching, cursing the existence of each step. We've struggled to comprehend what our teachers were speaking in our foreign language classes (nevermind our math classes.) We've celebrated hitting that high note in chorus when we were practicing over and over with Mr. Gilberti for the upcoming concert. We've huddled together, slathering thick black stripes of war paint onto our cheeks on game day, ready to face Winchester. We've peeled copious amounts of duct tape to hang a simple streamer during spirit week. Let's not forget the horrifying amount of hair spray cans, eye shadow, and puncture wounds from boutonnières on prom night. We've heard our names called, and we've heard our families cheer, as we walked across the stage to finally receive our diplomas. Set aside Massachusetts. It is a part of us, it makes us ignite.

Throughout our years leading to high school and during our years here, Woburn has become a part of us. It holds our strongest memories, our closest friends, our favorite places. Woburn imprinted itself in our memories.

However, long before we strolled the halls of Woburn High as students or walked along the trails at Horn Pond as kids, others lived in Woburn, created memories, and added to the rich history of Woburn. Captain Edward Johnson, author of the first history of the Massachusetts colony, founded Woburn in 1642.

Woburnites were active participants in the Revolutionary war on both sides, through revolutionary town militia and British supporters. Street signs reading "Revere Road," "Tory Row," and "Lafayette" are reminders of the influence of the War on the citizens of Woburn. The Woburn Library, where we had story time as kids and studied as students, was opened to the public in 1879, making Woburn one of the first Town Libraries of its size in the entire United States. Count Rumford, whose statue sits on the front lawn of the Library, was an influential statesman and inventor during the Revolutionary War era. Another Woburn inventor, Charles Goodyear discovered the process for making useable rubber. Today he is honored by the Goodyear Elementary School.

The rich history of our city are what makes it Woburn. Growing up in Woburn makes this history a part of us. The buildings, statues, landmarks, and other memorials around Woburn help to tie us to the past and remind us of what makes us.

It's New England

FALL... Maybe we spent our entire Saturday mornings raking leaves in our backyards just to destroy all of our hard work in one giant leap into the pile, scattering leaves over the yard all over again. Or perhaps we spent the long fall weekends planning apple picking days and eating cider donuts.

WINTER ... Maybe we felt the rush of excitement and relief as we heard the telephone ring and the voice on the other end announce "snow day," as we grabbed our coats, hats, and gloves and rushed outside to build snowmen and to cream our friends and siblings with snowballs. We loved those days when we met at the Joyce to go sledding and skated at the rink and ponds.

SPRING... We loved that great feeling of the first day of warmth after what felt like ages of cold and darkness. After months of stormy weather, the colors of spring flowers and new leaves were awakened with the longer days of sun.

SUMMER... We rushed home from school to pack up the car and head to the beach or the mountains to spend weeks at cabins, beach homes, and camps. We spent many summer days with friends and family and wished the days could be even longer.

We know that we were blessed with various seasons, it can snow in May and be warm enough for shorts in the November. The seasons and unpredictable weather made New England special to us and we were proud to make it our home.

Commitment

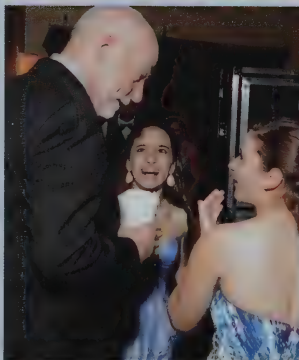

Thank you

To our teachers...
Thank you for patience.
Thank you for the kindness you showed to us.
Thank you for the guidance you gave us as we were learning to grow.

Thank you for swallowing every negative generalization people may make about teachers, and knowing in your hearts that what you accomplish in school is worth it all and then some.

Thank you for giving young adults the confidence and courage to follow our dreams.

Even on the difficult days,
remember that you are never forgotten.
We carry what you taught us in our minds, and also in our hearts, for the rest of our lives.

Dedication

Mr. Brendan Doherty

As we recall our years at Woburn High, many positive associations come to mind. Our memories are mingled with thoughts of the people we have met and the teachers who have inspired us. There are many teachers who have given us a positive outlook on life and in the classroom, coached us on the athletic fields, and advised us in our extracurricular activities. Of all of these people, one person comes to mind as having contributed more than any other to our class.

This individual has always given willingly and cheerfully of his time, knowledge and kindness. He has become a friend, as well as an advisor and teacher. Regardless of what our activity or concern has been, he has been available to provide advice and assistance. His unselfish nature in our activities and his continuous stories and humor always brighten many of our days here.

He has taught us with passion, fearlessness, sincerity, and of a true love for his students. He is a role model and a friend who has given a lifetime to inspire values for compassion, hard-work, integrity, and commitment. This former Woburn High School graduate whose love of history and of his alma mater inspired him to come back to wear he belongs. For more than thirty years he has shared his wisdom and knowledge of the world with the students of Woburn.

It is with our sincere appreciation, for his time and dedication to the Woburn Public School system that we the Class of 2015 dedicate our yearbook to Mr. Brendan Doherty.

As we have grown older together, we have shared more than just our academic lives. We have shared the unique experiences people gain by living in Woburn.

We are the only ones who experienced waiting in the long lines at Dunkins in the center and be able to identify every person in line. Or remember the $7 Tuesday tradition at the Showcase Cinemas. Maybe it was watching our who sat on the damp grass surrounded by crowds of teens craning their necks to the sky on Flag Day and hearing the children squeal in excitement and fear as colorful explosions fill the sky. We survived the years in middle school now referred to as the dark ages where we spent hours as mall rats at the Burlington Mall. Or was it the beat of Kay Perry blaring California Girls on the way to Good Harbor, in a car one too many bodies full. The heat of the sun slowing turned us different shades of brown and red as we attempted to tan. Maybe it was walking along the shore and seeing a Woburnite every 50 feet. It's a fact that when we shared stories of our summer vacations we were either talking about Cape Cod, New Hampshire or Maine beach houses and lake cottages. Or how each of our closets had some form of black and orange. These were the memories that made us radiate.

Throwback Thursday

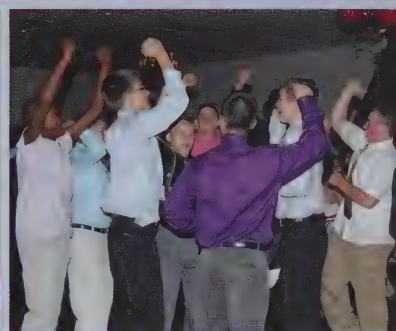

We walked through the doors with our backpacks loaded with notebooks, colored pencils, glue sticks, and fruit snacks. We were excited for the day to learn, back when science consisted of recording jelly bean flavors and making s'mores with solar powered ovens. Some of our greatest cares were who would be cops and who would be robbers at recess, and every day brought new friends and new adventures.

We were no longer those energetic kids from elementary school and not quite yet high school students, and as in any situation, being caught in the middle can make things quite awkward. Although we may have made regrettable fashion choices, spent too many hours wandering the mall, or participated in any number of the other cringe worthy acts popular with middle school students, we still ended up having a blast. We made new friends from other elementary schools, went on field trips, and attended dances. Middle School was our first exciting step towards High School and our future.

Surviving Freshman Year

We had risen all the way to the top of the food chain in middle school only to be thrown back to the bottom, but that didn't stop us. We walked into our first day of high school excited and slightly terrified as we looked around at the upper class men and anticipated what the next four years would have in store.

dance

the night away

On March 3, 2012, we spent our final periods of the day in the lobby decorating for our first high school dance. We eagerly anticipated the night hanging metallic stars and garland with our friends. We spent the week leading up to the dance going back and forth, trying to decide on what to where, how to do our hair, or where to take pictures. We arrived at the school that night, with students from the Joyce, the Kennedy, and other middle schools dancing off. The dance solidified our first days in the high school and brought us together as one class.

corsages and boutonnieres

May 9, 2013 marked the date of the first semi-formal dance for our class. The weeks leading up to the day were filled with stress as dates, dresses, and decorations were chosen for the night. The activities committee worked hard to plan and decorate for a dance to remember, as we planned what we would wear, who we would go with, how we would do our hair, and where we would take pictures. Despite being rattled at the discovery that the infamous DJ Dan would not be in charge of the music, we still enjoyed a beautiful night filled with dancing and fun.

15 for 2015

Things that make us.....

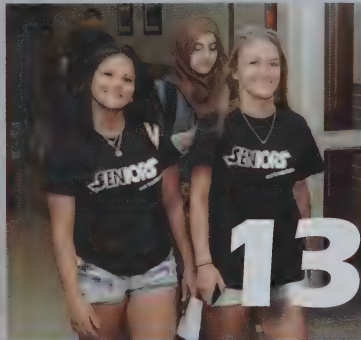

15 Dances

The dances are usually DJ'd by DJ Dan. The school puts on several dances a year. From homecoming to senior prom, dances are heavily talked about and well anticipated. Prom is that magical night that every girl dreams about. They get their nails and hair done. They also look for that perfect dress that they will more than likely only wear once. A night of great music, decent food, and horrible dancing. The guys have to get the tux, the corsage, and if requested, (told to) get a limo.

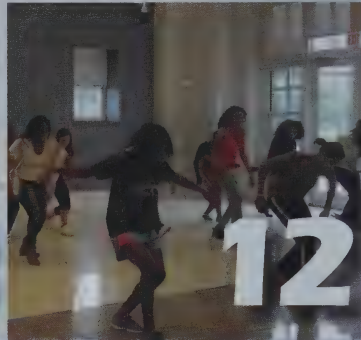

14 Class officers

Students love being able to elect their own peers to plan things like prom and reunions. Above Randy Castillo fights for the position of V.P.

13 Move up day

That day before the last day of school where everyone has the opportunity to meet their teachers for next year and see what friends are in their classes. Kim Moya and Hannah Calarese show off their senior shirts above.

12 Step team

The Step Team is the epitome of Tanner Pride. It shows our strength and unity. And let's be honest, they always kill it at the Pep Rally.

11

Open Campus

Okay, let's be honest. Who doesn't like getting out of class? Kayla DeJesus, Casey Burton, and Kiera Murphy walk out into their own happy world outside of WMHS.

10

Friendships

Friends make or break your high school experience. We appreciate the people we let into our lives and consider our friends throughout these ups and downs of our years. Eric Bordenca, Matthew Mogaura, and Derek Medina hang out during lunch.

Spirit Week

A week full of different themed days and decorated hallways to show off your class's Tanner Pride. Yan Ni Kelly, Karen Thifault, and Jenny Lee help decorate the class of 2015's hallway.

8

The Dating Game

Heartwarming or heartbreaking, the Dating Game is an event put on by the Interact Club that tests how well two people truly know each other.

7 The Fan Section

Superfans pile into the fan section every home football game, spilling out into the aisles and chanting words of encouragement to their team (and sometimes not so nice words to their opponents).

6 Thanksgiving day game

Woburn vs. Winchester. The traditional Thanksgiving Day game, brings two communities together just like the Pilgrims and Indians.

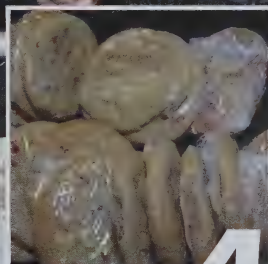

5 If you have ever stopped into a teacher's room to say hello, or talked with another faculty member in the hall, you know exactly why we love the faculty. They are the nicest and most helpful people we'll ever encounter in our lives.

Senior Cafe

The senior cafe is that awesome place that all the seniors hang out at lunch. This is something we have all looked forward to since freshman year.

Pep Rally

All the student and staff gather in the gym to display their school spirit and get rowdy. Classes compete to see who has the most school spirit, obviously Class of 2015 wins every time.

Cookies

If you have ever wondered where all the money in your account went, it was probably because of the cookies.

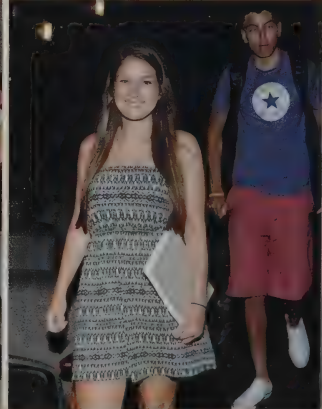

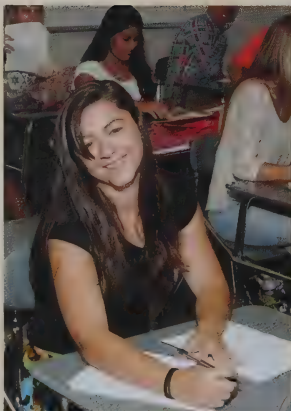

Musicals & Plays

The musicals and plays showcase the talent of the students. Colleen Connor plays Auntie Em in The Wizard of Oz.

let the stress begin

Bottom middle, Gabrielle Hilbrunner and Erin Marx make their way down the hall. Bottom right, Diva Franca looks for a seat in the auditorium, followed by Dimitar Zelenkov.

Junior Jam

We were almost there. The reality of our future loomed over our heads as we prepared to apply for colleges and careers. We had opportunities to take more advanced and exciting classes, excelled in sports, and returned to our favorite clubs and activities. We were finally upperclassmen, and moved through the halls with confidence, and watched our schedules fill up with activities, homework, and responsibilities. We were stressed, but we were ready to take on the next step.

2013-2014

a night to remember

Our Junior Prom on April 4, 2014 was our first dance outside the school. It was held at the Hilton in Woburn. "Fire burning on the dance floor" will bring memories of more than just song lyrics to all of us. The fire alarm in the middle of the dance truly made the night one to remember. Despite freezing outside as our tuxedos, boutonnieres, corsages, hair, and dresses that we had spent so much time choosing and preparing became soaked, we had a fantastic time dressing up, taking pictures, eating dinner, and dancing the night away with our friends.

Senior Swag

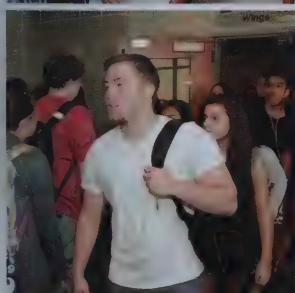

We had finally made it to the last leg of our high school career. All of our hard work in school, sports, and activities had finally paid off. We spent hours on applying to college and stressfully awaiting their replies. We had a blast planning and attending senior activities and "trying" to avoid senior slide. We soaked in every hectic busy minute of our final days in high school as we awaited our graduation and anticipated what the future had in store for us.

got spirit?

Every November we look forward to a week full of costumes, black and orange, and a whole bunch of Tanner Pride. As seniors we brought our game more than ever. We suited up and dressed our best on Thursday, got cozy in our pajamas on Friday, showed some serious patriotism on 'Murica Monday, had everyone seeing double on Twinning Tuesday, and created a sea of black and orange at Wednesday's pep rally. Our favorite MC's Marilyn McCall and Shannon Alessandrone came out on a scooter to start the rally, introducing performances from our cheerleaders, football players, dance team, step team, and the first ever Senior Class flash mob. A victorious Thanksgiving day game was just the icing on the cake.

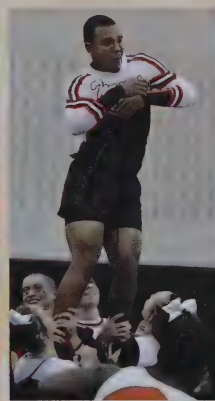

Alex Brodeur flexes his suit coat and tie on best dressed day. Louis Walusimbi rocks the robe with a tie on pajama day. Angelica Schlieff and James McRae dress their best. Mar passes out on the desk. Let it snow

It's the most wonderful time of the year- family, friends, presents, giving, decorations, lights, and -for us seniors- a holiday dance! We celebrated our last dance at the school on Friday, December 5, 2014. We decked the halls with holiday tinsel and lights and dressed up in our favorite shimmering holiday colors. We spent the night dancing to music from DJ Dave among strobe lights and foam, taking plenty of group photos, and dressing up with props and posing to make our Senior video. Overall the holiday dance was a perfect beginning to the holiday season!

connections

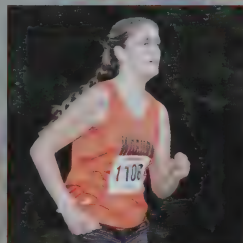

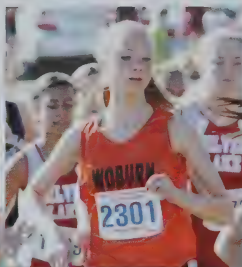

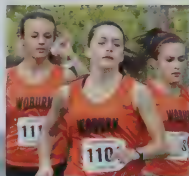

As athletes in Woburn we have learned the true meaning of diligence, pride, and excellence. Our persistence to succeed throughout the athletic seasons made us stand out against our rivalries. We were the players and teams of Tanner Pride.

Only we knew how difficult it was to remove all the turf pellets from the depths of our cleats. We were the ones who rushed to the Joyce with our track bags banging against our hips as tried to make practice on time. Who knew what it's like to have random pencil scratch marks along our AP History notes as we tried to stay awake after a late game. Or to glance at the crowd as we stood along the fifty yard line at the first home football game, seeing a sea of black, orange, and crazy screaming fans. The silence that filled the golf course like a fog right before the unmistakable whack as you drove that little white ball straight into the sky. Or the laughter that filled a living room and slowly emptied tray after tray of spaghetti on pasta night before the big game. The nervous jitters that quaked our bodies as we put on our jerseys in preparation for the game. The powdery chalk that drowned our hands before we hit the parallel bars at our gymnastic meets. The weight of our softball and baseball bats as we walked towards the diamond. The lightning-speed flick of the wrist as we passed the field hockey ball to our teammate. The chill from the ice that runs through our bodies before we warmed up at hockey practice. The laughter, sweat, and tears of joy and heartbreak, that is shared by every team and every player. This was being part of something and we're so proud.

Bottom right, Christopher Jewett sprints to the finish with ease. Right, Boys' Outdoor Track assembles for a group picture on a beautiful spring day. Side, Preston Gordon sprints to the finish in a right race.

Top, Mike Srajer, needs a good excuse to get out of his school work. Below, Derek Medina needs food to live and snacks to get through the school day. Brett LeBlanc cannot survive his classes without a huge pack of chewing gum. Gum is the most asked about item in school so whoever has it better watch out.

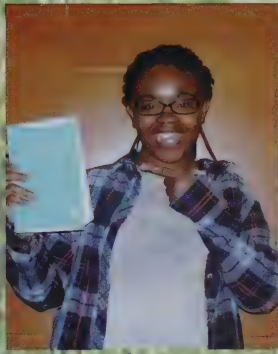

Top, TJ Cerasale wants a genie, Joey Connors, to grant all his wishes. Center, Nolan Lundin cannot survive Shukan's first period class without a coffee each morning. Above, Caroline Sanchez needs her thinking cap to do well in school. Kevin Chiary needs ear plugs to ignore people talking nonsense.

WE LITERALLY CAN'T LIVE WITHOUT

WELCOME TO THE JUNGLE

Welcome to the jungle, We got everything you want. Welcome to the jungle we take it day by day... and we always make sure that we have our whatever it is that gets us through the day.

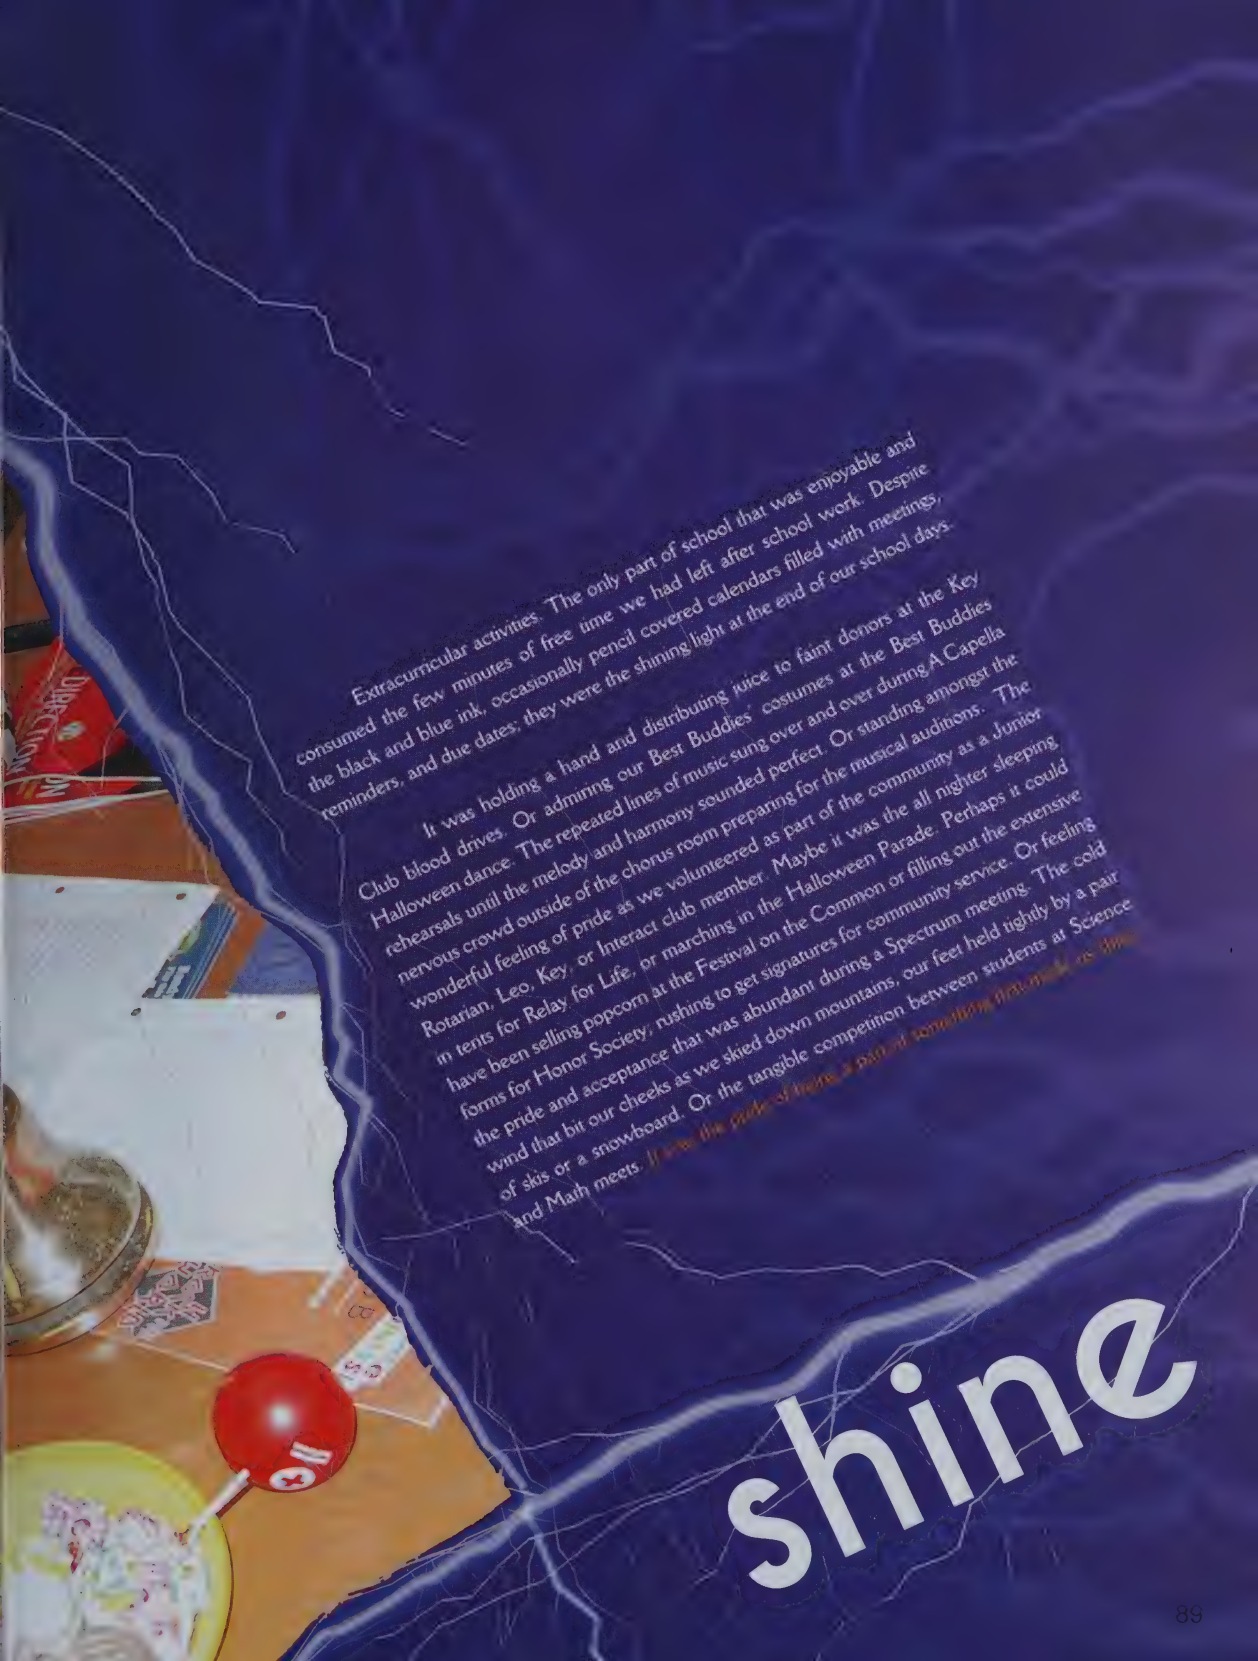

Top, Jackie Banks literally cannot live without water. Cynthia Pereira needs a bible. Above, Matt Moggiaro needs light to keep him out of the dark. Middle left, Kyle Romano says that no teenager can survive without a phone charger by their side.

Above, Tyler Sullivan's swagger keeps him going throughout the day. Left, Jason Freitas lives for playing his guitar and cannot go without it. ROCK AND ROLL!

Extracurricular activities. The only part of school that was enjoyable and consumed the few minutes of free time we had left after school work. Despite the black and blue ink, occasionally pencil covered calendars filled with meetings, reminders, and due dates, they were the shining light at the end of our school days.

It was holding a hand and distributing juice to faint donors at the Key Club blood drive. Or admiring our Best Buddies' costumes at the Best Buddies Halloween dance. The repeated lines of music sung over and over during A Capella rehearsals until the melody and harmony sounded perfect. Or standing amongst the nervous crowd outside of the chorus room preparing for the musical auditions. The wonderful feeling of pride as we volunteered as part of the community as a Junior Rotarian, Leo, Key, or Interact club member. Maybe it was the all nighter sleeping in tents for Relay for Life, or marching in the Halloween Parade. Perhaps it could have been selling popcorn at the Festival on the Common or filling out the extensive forms for Honor Society, rushing to get signatures for community service. Or feeling the pride and acceptance that was abundant during a Spectrum meeting. The cold wind that bit our cheeks as we skied down mountains, our feet held tightly by a pair of skis or a snowboard. Or the tangible competition between students at Science and Math meets. It was the perfect thing, a part of something that made us shine.

From blank canvasses to masterpieces

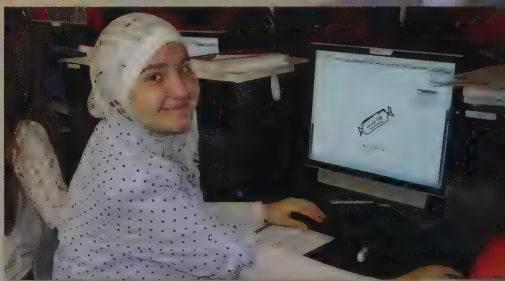

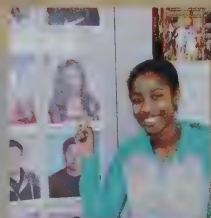

Top row, examples of student artworks. Top row on the right, Dimitar Zelenkov and Brooklyn Sondreal are seen holding up their artwork. Far right top row, Cynthia Ntinunu also portraying artwork. In the middle of the page is Brianna George focusing on her project. Bottom middle of the page is Jenni Borrelli proudly holding up her artwork. Bottom row far left, Matt Mogauro, Archely Blaise, and Tsneem Chbib love posing with their computer graphic design art from Mrs. Thifauli's class.

The award-winning artist, Nicole Zadykiewicz, explains her artist abilities. In ninth grade she received the Scholastic Art&Writing Award; in tenth and eleventh grade she received Academic Awards in art. Nicole's work also had a gallery feature in Youth Art Month and was put in the Joyce committee room. When asked where she finds inspiration, Nicole responded that she is inspired by her older brother, who was an artist while growing up. Nicole says she prefers illustration and painting, but she also dabbles in digital art. Nicole describes how when she moves "the brush [she gets] this feeling of energy flowing out of [her] hands onto the canvas." Maybe someday we will see her in a museum of her own.

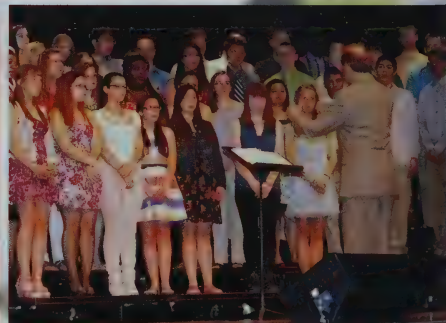

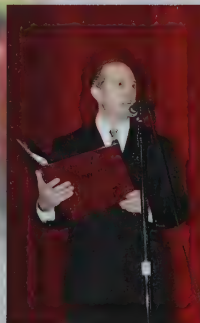

Top left, Rebecca Flagg poses during her art class. Top right Dipen Patel works on his computer graphic project. Middle left, Kyle Romano is adding the final touches to her family art project. Middle row right is Brandon Syring experimenting with different figures. Bottom row left is Mike Strafer proudly showing next to his artwork on the Art Show bottom row right, Angelica Shreff is putting her work so far. Middle right side, Phil Carpinella and Justine Camacho. Bottom right side, . Middle left, Phil Carpinella conducts the band. Center, Vanessa Goncalo plays the clarinet. Middle right, Derek Medina plays the tuba proudly . Upper bottom left, Phil and Justine conduct the band. Upper bottom right,Victoria Brown still kills it on the xylophone. Lower bottom left, Andrew Magee and Jake Hogan get caught up in the moment. Caught in Action section: Top is Victoria Brown throwing down some beats on the xylophone. In the middle is Phil Carpinella and Justine Claudino Camacho posing before they take on their role of drum major. Bottom is Vanessa Goncalo making musical art with her clarinet.

Favorite Song

Gabby Walsh's favorite chorus song was Winters Waking because of the slow beat and beautiful rhythm!

Performance

Kat Hamilton's best performance was the year the chorus did a folk song theme trivia concert!

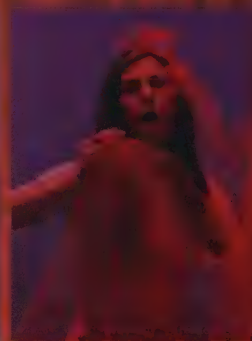

Memory

Gabby Hilbrunner says her favorite moment was Halloween 2014 when Mr. Gilberti dressed as a wizard!

wizard of oz

Lions, and tigers and bears, OH MY!

A yellow brick road, blue checkered dress, and two braided pigtails began this kid-friendly musical. The audience traveled with Dorothy, the Scarecrow, the Lion, and the Tin man through Munchkin Country, the fields of poppies, and the emerald Oz. A riveting tale full of catchy songs and a classic story, Wizard of Oz was quite a show.

Tomorrow, Tomorrow!

Annie was a musical of a young girl, flaming red hair, and the meaning of family. Annie was full of promises for tomorrow, friendship, and great music. You can bet your bottom dollar that music will always be playing at Woburn High.

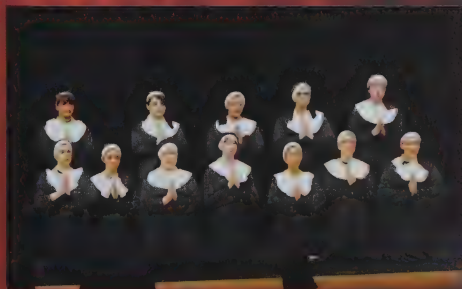

sound of music

The hills are alive!

On the right is a clip of the group pictures showing some of the techies including Michael Srajer and Tyler Sullivan. In the middle is the poster created by John Petrillo of GI Designs. The image on the far right is the group picture of the nuns including seniors Victoria Brown missing Noiralih Castro.

A rebellious nun, seven disciplined children, and a stubborn father; all aspects of this classic musical. The cast was small yet enough laughter, smiles, and singing was shared for a group four times the size. The perfect night for curtain dresses, picnics in a valley, and do re mi fa so la ti do!

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Bottom, Kelly Doherty shakes hands with the officers. From top to bottom, Mr. Donovan, Mr.

Finigan, Mr. Gangi, Advisor Ms. Smith.

"Your academic prowess will serve you well, no doubt. But there's more. Decency and civility, compassion and common sense; these are things not taught through standard point-of-delivery public education. They're learned outside of the classroom. They're integral to true success as you complete your undergraduate career and move into the great wide open. In terms of building relationships and a career, of carving out a living, grades can open many doors; but bad manners can slam them shut... In short, never forget who you are. Never forget "that part" of your character that cannot be measured by a high-school exam. Never forget that decency you've cultivated during your time in Woburn. Never forget those life lessons learned alongside your written exams and oral presentations, those life lessons that helped make you the excellent people you are today. As you complete your final months as a Woburn student, remember where you've come from and know that it will help you with where you're going."

-Mr. Matt Gangi

From the first day we walked into kindergarten with our teenage mutant ninja turtle back packs and Lisa Frank folders, we had been preparing for this moment. We were no longer counting down the days for there were no days left to count. This was the moment, the one short year, we were seniors.

The gentle chill of early September which usually brought the dread of a new school year brought the realization that our adult lives were soon to begin. We walked into school basking in the fear within the freshmen's eyes as the first day of that we will be forced to make in the upcoming months and how to yet failed by almost all of us, not procrastinate. The throbbing headaches formed while filling out late night Common App applications minutes before their deadlines, chugging cup after cup of coffee. And the overwhelming sense of relief mixed with terror after finally picking our schools. We enjoyed the speedy way down the senior slide from attentive students to brainless bodies between December and February. The groups of girls running out of school towards hair appointments on prom night, already behind schedule. The pounding bass on the dance floor shaking our bodies as we rushed to remove heels from swollen feet. The sweaty suit jackets and ties that collectively made their way to the back of chairs. Senior week, promenade, prom night forming into graduation day in blink of an eye. Running our fingers over the crisp and delicately covered in black ink of inked page stating we are graduates. The black and white polyester shine that not only suffocated our already stressing bodies but ignited tears in the eyes of friends and family. The checkerboard sky that we created as we throw our caps and the cheers that echo at the end of the ceremony.

*From surprises in money tree's knot
To the view on Horn Pond Mountain's top
And every dusty trail in-between,
From reading in castle-like library walls
To roaming around elementary school halls
And infamous Flag Day on the green,*

*From roller coasters on hockey night
To black outs under Friday night lights
And coming together as a team
From Pep Rally's and dances full of Tanner Pride
To waving to Lee as into school we stride
And activities we balanced as if on a beam*

*From pre-school friends
To graduation's end
And memories we keep
Between us they create a bind
And stay in our hearts and minds
As we take the leap*

*No matter what in our lives
Each of us will fulfill
We'll look back on those memories
And remember
What will make us still*

Phil Carpinella is from Guatemala.

Yan Ni Kelly is from China.

Nicole Tschuor's family is from Switzerland. Much like the swiss Nicole loves chocolate. Fun Fact: milk chocolate was first invented in Switzerland.

Marisa Balleani is from Canada, a country full of moose, faux bacon, and eh's. Fun Fact: the stars William Shatner and James Doohan from the show Star Trek are both Canadian.

Cynthia is from Angola. The maputa is a traditional outfit in African culture, such as in Angola. Often made in funky fabrics, this two piece is definitely a statement.

Vanessa is from Vietnam. Here a traditional dress is the ao dai. It is a tight-fitted dress worn over pants. The dress is now considered the national costume.

Kristy is from Haiti where on special events such as wedding women wear a karabela dress. Each country in the Caribbean has a different take on the outfit.

In Memory of Patricia "Pat" Stewart - English

October 15, 1941 --- October 23, 2014

Pat Stewart was a caring, funny, free-spirited woman who touched the lives of many people during her 73 years. Pat was hired in the Woburn Public School system in 1971, and remained a devoted and loving teacher until her passing. In years past, she helped out with the Debate Team and the Role Play Club, but Pat is most famously known for her long hours, and school years, at WMHS. Whether it was preparing the next day's lessons or teaching English Credit Recovery in the afternoons, Pat was at WMHS almost every day from sun up to sun down. During the summer, Pat would devote her time to teaching English Summer School courses to help students at WMHS achieve high school diplomas.

A fixture around the building and a wonderful member of the WMHS family, Pat Stewart is missed for her vibrant personality and love for the students of Woburn.

You can always count on staff members to be multi-talented during the school year. Mr. Seitz directs students to their seats for an assembly. Mrs. Patriissi and Mr. Deldon welcome the students first thing in the morning. Mr. Michelini stands guard over the homecoming king and queen ballot box. Mr. McSweeney works the sound board during the pep rally with Mike Srajer.

Time Capsule

We the class of 2015 have decided to items for our class time capsule that would be opened at our 50th reunion in 2065.

Macha Cejour decided to put an analog clock so people of the future know how some people told time.

Rebeca Blemur went with the ever so popular fast food chain: Chipotle.

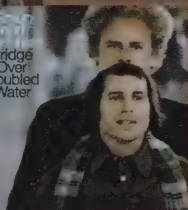

Disha Patel went with her Ipod full of all the hottest music of 2014.

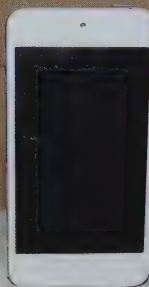

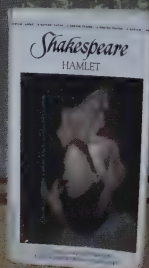

Kristy Dalexis wanted the kids of 2050 to know that people read books before there were Ipads and tablets.

Matt Black opted for one of his favorite albums, showing that not everyone listened to the same music.

Guide to Making a Noteworthy Yearbook:

one big CRAZY family

1. Spring Training

The yearbook advisors chose our staff in April of our junior year. Susan Happel, our rep from Herff Jones Publishing Company, spent two days training us on the InDesign software.

2. Cover Design

We spent many hours brainstorming ideas on the theme of the book and discussed what we wanted to be remembered for as a class. Ashley Joiner came from the Herff Jones Plant in Gettysburg, Pennsylvania to help us design our cover.

3. Page Design

We worked as a team and everyone brought their own personal style to the pages. Zach and Nicole were our go to photoshop people. Colleen and Kylie filled all the pages with their wonderful writing. Nolan got yelled at daily while jumping back and forth from people's pages to write captions. Karen, Andrew, Cynthia, and Kaitlyn spent most of their time surveying people and designing their pages.

4. Taking Pictures

As soon as we walked in the door on move up day freshman year, Mrs. Thifault, Mrs. Getherall, and Burlington Studios made sure we had plenty of photos that told the story of our years at WMHS. Students also contributed through photo submissions on eshare.

5. Creating Layouts

Every single page of the book was custom designed during our 7th period, after school, or on the weekends.

6. Writing

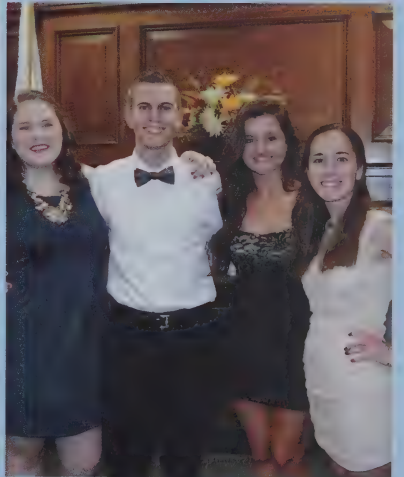

Colleen and Kylie made sure every there weren't any embarrassing grammar or spelling mistakes and wrote great bodies of text.

7. Off To The Plant

Pages were sent off to the plant in Kansas, MO where they proofed and made sure everything was good to go and no fingers were sticking up where they shouldn't be.

We're pretty cool I guess. We've always been told how much the yearbook staff is like a family. Each April, Mrs. Getherall and Mrs. Thifault choose a group of students to work together to create a book that captures the essence of our time here. We have different interests, various extra curriculars, and came from a variety of friend groups, but we all shared the goal of making a book that we would be proud to look at years from now and say that we designed. We became like family... a very dysfunctional family. We spent seventh periods, early mornings, lunches, in-school field trips, and even the occasional Saturday in the yearbook room. This time was filled with yelling, sassy remarks, sarcasm, not-so-constructive criticism, and overall chaos. At the same time the room was characterized by laughter and creative energy, and became a second home to us within the school. We consumed enough snack food to feed a small third-world country, and on the days that we felt absolutely exhausted, it was completely acceptable for us to pass out on the couch. From brainstorming the cover, to taking photos, to designing pages, to endless editing, being a part of the yearbook staff was a roller coaster ride, start to finish, and none of us would change a minute of it.

What makes us...

"Some of life's strongest bonds are the ones we forge when everything around us seems broken... We are stronger together than we are alone."

Christian Barrett and Teddy Barrett

We are so proud of you two!
Can't wait to see what both of your futures hold.

Love you 1-7
Love the Cousins

Karen Thifault

*We hope that the days come easy and the moments pass slow,
And each road leads you where you want to go,
And if you're faced with a choice, and you have to choose,
We hope you choose the one that means the most to you.*

*And if one door opens to another door closed,
We hope you keep on walkin' till you find the open one.
Remember if it's cold outside,
Show the world the warmth of your smile.*

*Our wish, for you, is that this life becomes all that you want it to be,
Your dreams stay big, and your worries stay small,*

*You never need to carry more than you can hold,
And while you're out there getting where you're getting to Remember how much we love you.*

*We hope you never look back, but you never forget,
All the ones who love you, in the places you left.
We hope you always forgive, and you never regret,
And you help somebody every chance you get.
Oh, you find God's grace, in every mistake,
And you always give more than you take.*

*We hope that life becomes all that you want it to be.
And your dreams come true.*

*Love always,
Momma, Daddy, Kathryn, Kevin,
Kruizer, Papa, Mammy and Billy*

"I hope that the days come easy and the moments pass slow,
 And each road leads you where you want to go,
 And if you're faced with a choice, and you have to choose, I hope you choose the one the means the most to you.
 And if one door opens to another door closed,
 I hope you keep on walkin' till you find the window,
 If it's cold outside, show the world the warmth of your smile,
 But more than anything, more than anything,
 My wish, for you, is that this life becomes all that you want it to."

A LOOK AT WHAT HAPPENED DURING THE 2014-2015 SCHOOL YEAR

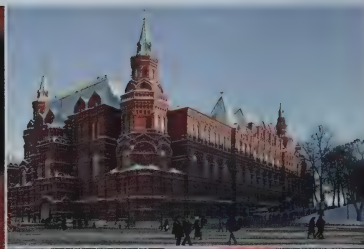

A YEAR CAPTURED

Some parts of the year were mysterious, others were awesome and empowering, and still others — tragic. Take a look back at this collection of the year's highs and lows, from music, science and weather to fashion trends, technology and sports, and lots of things in between.

SHIFTING POWER...

INDIA'S NEW LEADER President Pranab Mukherjee appointed Narendra Modi as the new Prime Minister, succeeding Manmohan Singh. UNEASINESS AFFECTS OTHER NATIONS Problematic situations in Russia — fueled by a less than desirable economic state and varying opinions of immigration challenges — emphasized struggles within the country and caused other nations to react. The unrest led to Sweden's plan to re-train citizens previously enlisted in the Swedish army. SCOTLAND REMAINS Given the chance to be an independent nation, 55% of Scottish citizens voted to remain a part of the United Kingdom. Celebrating ensued after new life was given to a nation contemplating succession. CUBA AND U.S. MAKE AMENDS President Obama restored full diplomatic relations between Cuba after 50 years. This led to the release of suspected American spy Alan Gross who was being held in a Cuban prison. Obama, in turn, released three Cuban spies who had been imprisoned for years.

MH17 WHO TO BLAME?

Definitive evidence showed that Malaysia Airlines MH17 was shot down by a missile. Investigation continued as no group took full responsibility. However, speculations pointed to Russian forces.

AIRASIA INDONESIA CRASH Flight QZ8501 crashed into the Java Sea near Borneo in late December, carrying 162 passengers. The aircraft was only halfway to Singapore when its signal was lost due to bad weather conditions.

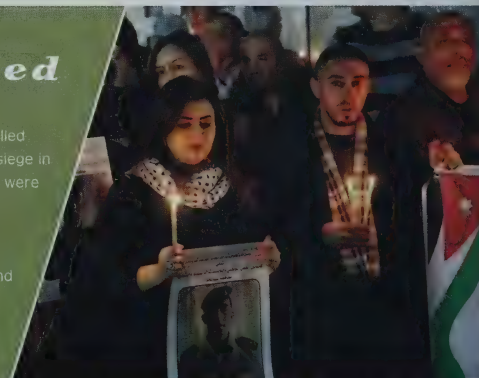

Impacted

TALIBAN Seven militants were killed after leading a Pakistani school siege in December. More than 140 people were killed; 132 of them were children.

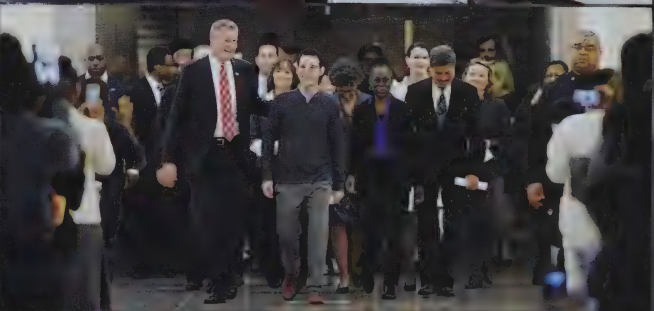

FIGHTING ISIS The extremist group controlled regions in Iraq and Syria and caused heavy unrest in a variety of violent and unsettling militant ways.

CHARLIE HEBDO Terrorists raided the French magazine office, killing 12. At the same time, 19 people were held hostage at a kosher store; four were murdered.

BOKO HARAM MASSACRE A major attack on Nigeria occurred in January; it was thought to be the largest ever conducted by the militant group.

EBOLA

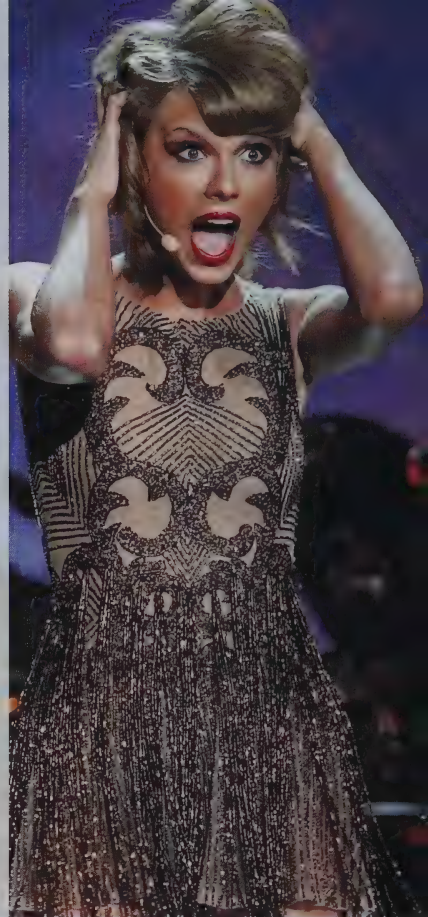

Ebola Epidemic in West Africa A severe, usually fatal disease in humans, broke out in West Africa — the largest epidemic since the disease was discovered in 1976. It was transmitted through direct human-to-human contact and included symptoms of fever, diarrhea, weakness, aches, internal bleeding and organ failure. The countries most highly affected were Guinea, Sierra Leone and Liberia; the Center for Disease Control and Prevention reported roughly 9,380 deaths in those three countries alone. The U.S. dealt with limited cases, involving several recoveries and only two deaths — both involving men who had been infected in Africa and traveled back to the U.S. before becoming ill. Even so, Americans panicked and more than 50,000 tweets followed. The World Health Organization raced to develop and test effective vaccines.

TALK ABOUT SUCCESS

Swift History and Some Lovable Brills

There was no denying the crazy success generated in 2014 by Taylor Swift, Sam Smith, Ed Sheeran and One Direction — they all continued making headlines (the good kind). Swift made history as “Blank Space” replaced “Shake It Off” on Billboard’s Top 100; she was the only female to ever accomplish this. Her newest album, 1989, sold more than one million copies its first week. And there was clearly something about the British. One Direction had the highest grossing tour, raking in $131.5 million in just the first six months of 2014. Fellow Brits Sam Smith and Ed Sheeran were big winners during awards season. Smith took home four Grammys — Record of the Year and Song of the Year for Stay with Me, Best New Artist and Best Pop Vocal Album. Finally, Ed Sheeran won numerous awards, namely People’s Choice Favorite Male Artist, Favorite Album for X, Teen Choice Male Artist and MTV VMA’s Best Male Video for “Sing” with Pharrell Williams.

THEY LOOK SO PERFECT

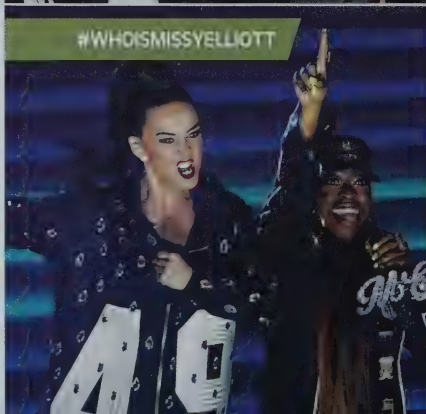

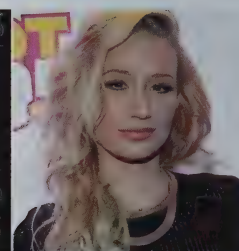

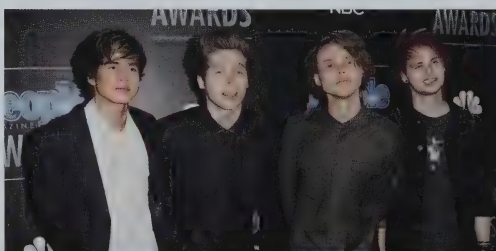

2014 was a busy and successful year for Australian rock band, 5 Seconds of Summer. The group took home the Teen Choice Breakout Group award, American Music Award’s New Artist of the Year, released a self-titled debut album in July and wrapped up a tour. I’M SO FANCY

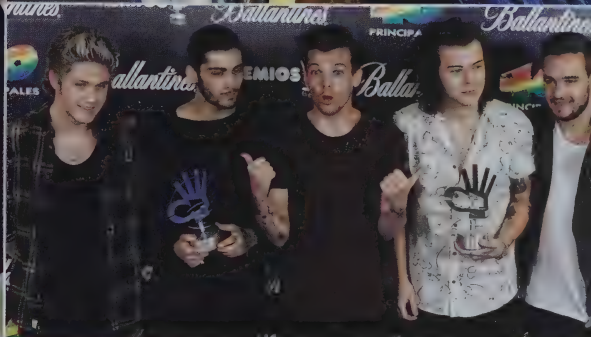

Australian hip-hop artist Iggy Azalea won a People’s Choice Award, a Teen Choice Award and an AMA for Favorite Hip-Hop Artist. Her single, “Fancy” was named Best Song by iTunes and won Teen Choice Award’s R&B/hip-hop song.

SUPER BOWL STARDOM

Katy Perry performed Super Bowl XLIX’s halftime show. She entered on a huge prismatic, metal tiger, but the surprises didn’t end there. Missy Elliott joined Perry to perform a set of three hits. Elliott had not produced an album since 2005 which led many to question who she even was. QUEEN

BEY Beyoncé’s successes continued. She was named iTunes Best Artist, opened for the Grammys — where she won both Best R&B Song and Performance — renewed her vows with Jay Z, and starred in the 17-city “On the Run” tour.

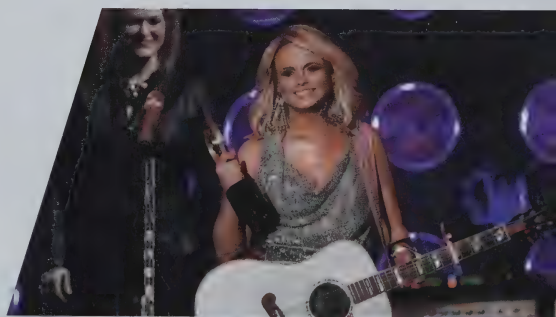

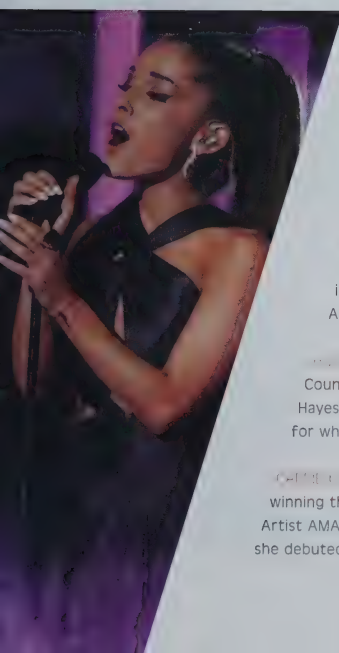

The Award Goes to...

ARIANA GRANDE Teen Choice Female Artist and People's Choice Favorite Breakout Artist were only two of the awards Grande added to her collection.

MIKE RUSSELL This Texas-born country star won several notable awards including a Grammy for Best Country Album and three separate CMA awards.

JUSTIN BIEBER People's Choice Favorite Country Male Artist went to 23-year-old Hayes, who also released a second album for which he co-wrote every track.

CARLY UNDERWOOD In addition to winning the Favorite Female Country Artist AMA and People's Choice awards, she debuted a baby bump in September.

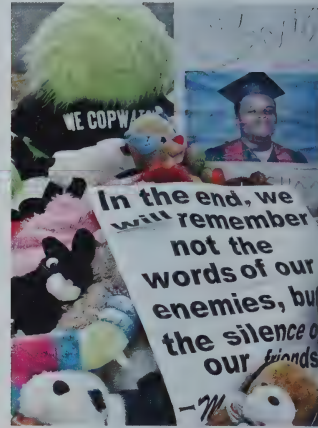

Lost Icons

05.28.14 Legendary author and civil rights advocate Maya Angelou, 86, died due to continued heart conditions.

08.11.14 Comedian and well-known actor, Robin Williams, died at age 63 after having dealt with depression.

09.04.14 Fashion Police's Joan Rivers died at 81 after going into cardiac arrest during a surgical procedure.

10.20.14 Distinguished Fashion designer Oscar de la Renta died at age 82 after battling gastric cancer.

DEATH WITH DIGNITY

Brittany Maynard was a 29-year-old Californian who learned that her brain cancer would ultimately kill her. She was told her condition would only worsen, so she decided that death with dignity was the best option. Her family relocated to Oregon, one of just three states that honored this decision, where she ended her life on November 1, 2014. Before her death, she worked closely with Compassion & Choices, an end-of-life choice advocacy group, in hopes to make choice an option for other terminally ill individuals.

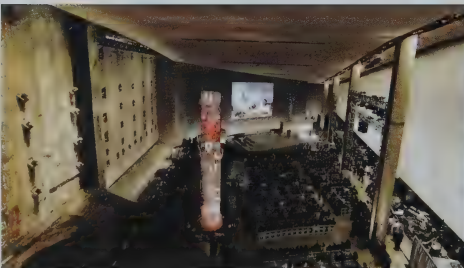

GUN CONTROL & MENTAL HEALTH

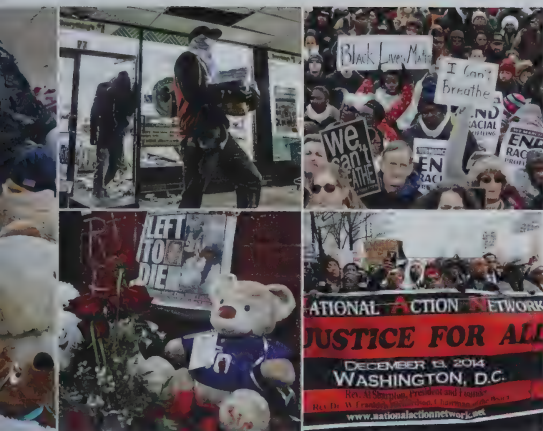

Due to school shootings like the one at Sandy Hook Elementary and more than 20 others in the two years since, gun control became an issue that demanded attention. But the focus turned toward mental health and the attention it deserved in regard to tragic shootings. It was perplexing to some that only 27 states increased funding for mental health in 2014. There were hopes that other states would pattern plans like Virginia, Minnesota and Wisconsin in their efforts to provide proactive mental health services for clients of all ages.

Raising Awareness

ALS CHALLENGE Social media allowed the "Ice Bucket Challenge" to go viral. Designed to raise awareness of ALS (Lou Gehrig's Disease), people would post a video of themselves dumping ice water over their heads and then challenge someone else to do the same or alternatively, donate money to The ALS Association. The campaign raised more than $220 million worldwide.

IN MAY, 2014, the September 11 Memorial Museum opened to the public in New York, and displayed familiar 9/11 sights and artifacts. Thirteen years after 9/11, One World Trade Center — the tallest building in America — opened its doors Community Tension Escalates Michael Brown, an African American teen in Ferguson, Missouri, was shot and killed by white police officer Darren Wilson in August. Violent and ongoing riots erupted in Ferguson and other U.S. cities, especially after the jury decided not to indict Officer Wilson. In Ferguson, windows and storefronts were shattered, stores were looted, shots were fired and police squad cars were set aflame. Crowds gathered in other parts of the country to protest, claiming that justice had not been served. To make matters worse, the events in Ferguson occurred just three weeks after 43-year-old Eric Garner was approached by officers in New York who observed him selling untaxed cigarettes. Garner reportedly had his hands in the air for police, but was put into a chokehold and thrown to the ground where he muttered, "I can't breathe! I can't breathe!" After lying motionless on the ground, Garner, an asthmatic, died on the way to the hospital. Protests nationwide regarding his death followed — including one with his family marching alongside Reverend Al Sharpton in Upper Manhattan calling for a full investigation of his death.

GONE, BUT NOT FORGOTTEN A memorial honored police officers Wenjian Liu and Rafael Ramos, who were shot and killed in their squad car in Brooklyn. The shooter, Ismaaiyl Brinsley who then killed himself, had earlier posted on social media expressing distaste for the police.

America Decides

REPUBLICANS TAKE SENATE The midterm elections rendered a dramatic shift in political party dominance as the GOP won seats from the Democratic Party — rounding out the House with 247 seats, and the Senate with 54 — for the first time in more than 80 years.

NEBRASKA Pilger, Nebraska, witnessed rare twin twisters in mid-June causing two deaths, 16 injuries and flattened homes.

THE PHILIPPINES The Philippines, China and Vietnam fell victim to a July super typhoon that claimed more than 150 lives, destroyed thousands of homes and wiped out crops.

THE PACIFIC NORTHWEST While the strongest rainstorm in years hit California and the Pacific Northwest in February leaving thousands without power and causing flooding and mudslides, the storms were not enough to eliminate drought conditions.

THE NAPA VALLEY A 6.0 tremor, the strongest since 1989, shook the Napa Valley. Dozens were injured, thousands lost power, and several buildings and roads were damaged.

TECHNOLOGICAL...

NETHERLANDS SOLARROAD The world's first solar road was built in Krommenie, Holland — a 230-foot long bike path that turned sunlight into energy to power street lights, traffic lights and even households. Officials planned to continue testing the solar road to develop even more energy-producing roads.

SPACESHIP TWO Co-pilot Michael Alsbury died in Virgin Galactic's SpaceShipTwo as it disintegrated above California due to a premature unlocking of its feathering system. His co-pilot was injured, but parachuted to safety.

ROSETTA MISSION History was made as spacecraft Philae landed on a comet 300 million miles from Earth. Harpoons shot into the comet's surface, anchoring the craft to the ground. Philae was set to drill for samples and help European astronomers study the composition and magnetic fields of the comet, but the inability to recharge its solar panels caused Philae to go missing.

MARYAM MIRZAKHANI For the first time ever, the Fields Medal went to a woman. Iranian-born Mirzakhani spent a decade mathematically analyzing billiard geometrics to understand the symmetry of curved surfaces.

NEREUS DEEP SEA SUBMARINE The $8 million U.S. craft imploded under intense pressure 10 kilometers down during an exploration of the Kermadec Trench near Northeast New Zealand. The robot was built in 2008 and offered insights to unexplored oceans within its brief life.

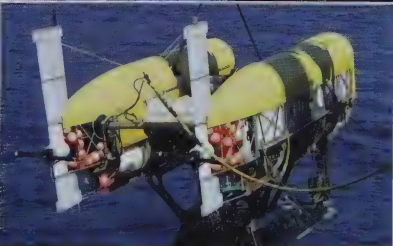

NOT THE NORM

Volcanic Action in Hawaii and Iceland

Lava from the Bardarbunga volcano flowed after a series of earthquakes in late August, expanding the size of Iceland. The spreading of the Eurasian and North American tectonic plates allowed lava to fill the gap, increasing Iceland's land area; enough molten rock was released to cover an NFL football field every 5.5 minutes. Unlike the eruption in Hawaii, no one lived near Bardarbunga's lava flow. Mount Kilauea on Hawaii's 'Big Island', one of the world's most active volcanos, erupted in June, threatening surrounding communities with a continuous river of lava. It surged toward the town of Pahoa causing most residents to evacuate, as there were few other options. Gravel roads were built as escape routes, but some residents requested to watch their homes burn in order to cope with the loss.

#ROSETTA #PHILAE

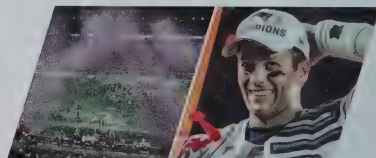

PREHISTORIC BONES Bones from possibly the largest dinosaur in existence — approximately 85 feet long and 65 tons — were unearthed in Argentina's southwestern Patagonia. PHILAEORNIS SANDERSI The Charleston Museum held the fossils of a newly discovered species and presumably the largest flying bird ever. P. sandersi had a 20-24 foot wingspan and was thought to be alive 25 to 28 million years ago.

#PELAGORNIS

REG. FAN FAVE The New England Patriots celebrated the game-saving interception by Malcolm Butler in the Fourth quarter, beating the Seattle Seahawks 28-24. Tom Brady was named Super Bowl XLIX Most Valuable Player, and joined Joe Montana as the only three-time quarterback winners of the MVP.

Game Changers

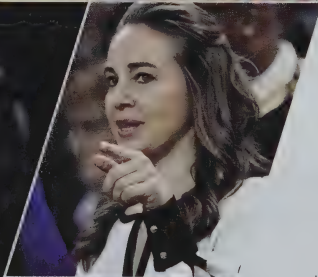

GIANT WIN SF Giants defeated the KC Royals in the World Series with the heroics of pitcher Madison Bumgarner who clinched with only two days' rest. This was the Giants' third championship in five years.

NHL HOCKEY Los Angeles Kings revelled as Stanley Cup Champions after beating the New York Rangers 3-2 to take the best of seven series in just five games.

NBA MEN'S BASKETBALL The San Antonio Spurs celebrated their fifth NBA Finals Championship with a 104-87 victory over the Miami Heat in game five. The Spurs won by an average of 18 points per game to deny Miami a three-peat.

FIRST FEMALE NBA COACH The Spurs hired Becky Hammon, a six-time WNBA All-Star as an assistant coach.

RETURNING HOME Cleveland welcomed forward LeBron James back to the Cavaliers after he blogged the announcement of his decision to return.

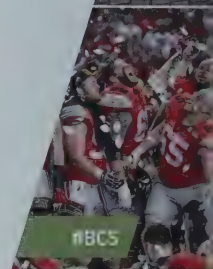

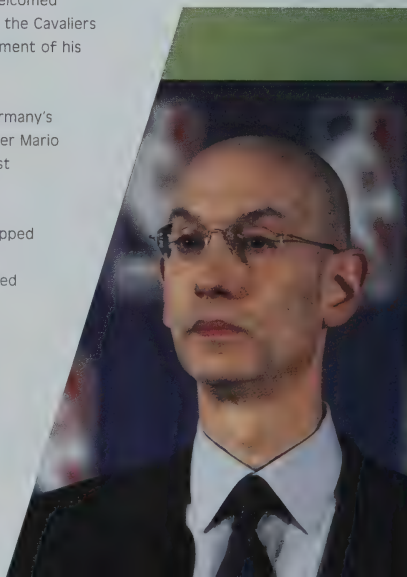

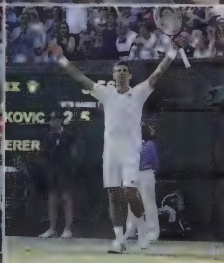

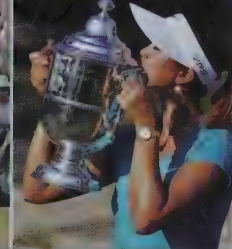

FIFA WORLD CUP Fans celebrate Germany's fourth World Cup Championship after Mario Götze scored the winning goal against Argentina. The final score was 1-0.

RECORD SAVING USA goalie Tim Howard upped the mark with 16 saves against Belgium. Team USA lost 2-1, but he was still regarded as one of the best goalies in the world.

WNBA SUCCESS After the most wins ever in a WNBA season, the Phoenix Mercury swept the Chicago Sky in the WNBA Finals. Star center Brittney Griner sat out game three with an injury, but Diana Taurasi, Candice Dupree and the Mercury prevailed.

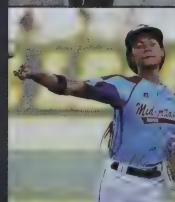

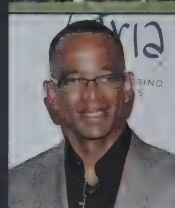

WINNER, WINNER...

TOUR DE FRANCE Vincenzo Nibali was the 101st winner of the race that he led for 18 of the 21 days allotted for the contest. AUGUSTA MASTERS Bubba Watson earned his second green jacket with a 15-foot birdie putt on the 18th green. U.S. WOMEN'S OPEN Michelle Wie, 24, won the U.S. Women's Open — her first career major — with a final-round even-par 70. NASCAR Kevin Harvick raises the Sprint Cup Trophy after he raced to victory at Homestead-Miami Speedway. CZECH VICTORY AT WIMBLEDON Petra Kvitová defeated Canadian Eugenie Bouchard 6-3, 6-0 to win the singles title. BCS CHAMP Ohio State Buckeyes won the College Football Playoff Championship over the Oregon Ducks with a final score of 42-20. WIMBLEDON CENTRE COURT Novak Djokovic defeated Roger Federer in a five-set match with scores of 6-7(7), 6-4, 7-6(4), 5-7 and 6-4. HEISMAN Oregon Ducks QB Marcus Mariota took honors as the first Hawaiian to win the Heisman Trophy after a three-year journey with the team. KENTUCKY DERBY California Chrome and jockey Victor Espinoza won the famed race in Louisville with Commanding Curve and Danza finishing second and third.

#RE2PECT

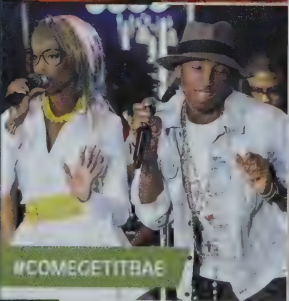

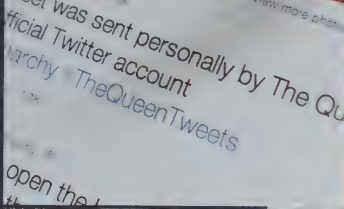

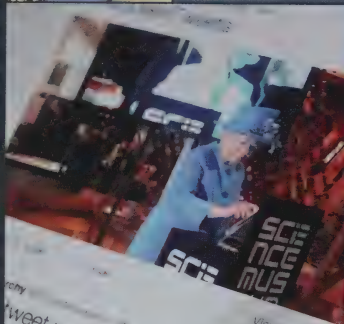

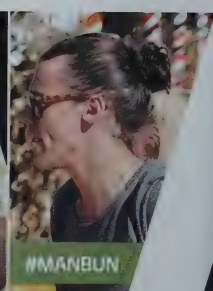

#2 RE2PECT Derek Jeter finished his career with an RBI single in the Yankees' 9-5 victory over the Boston Red Sox. He hugged his teammates and waved goodbye to 36,879 fans in Fenway Park. The stadium, social media and fans everywhere bid a heartfelt farewell to the Captain. STUART SCOTT After a lengthy battle with appendix cancer, Stuart Scott died at age 49. His talent, work ethic and dedication to the world of sports created the legacy he left behind. PHILADELPHIA Mo'Nique Davis was named SportsKid of the Year and was the first female pitcher to ever win a Little League World Series shut-out.

KEEPING SCORE

Spiraling Sports Controversies NASCAR, NBA and NFL found themselves surrounded by controversy accompanied by inevitable attention, opinions and the need for decisions to be made. LA Clipper's former owner, Donald Sterling found himself in the spotlight after being accused of making racist remarks that upset many. NBA Commissioner Adam Silver decided to ban Sterling from the NBA for life, fined him the maximum of $2.5 million and forced him to sell the team. Three-time NASCAR Sprint Cup Series Champion Tony Stewart was involved in an accident on a dirt track in New York in which his car struck and killed 20-year-old driver Kevin Ward. Controversy continued following an Ontario County grand jury's decision not to indict Stewart after finding no evidence that he actually committed a crime. Domestic violence incidents unveiled within the NFL pushed Commissioner Roger Goodell to enact tougher penalties for such behavior through new policies that held players more accountable for their actions, with little to no gray area.

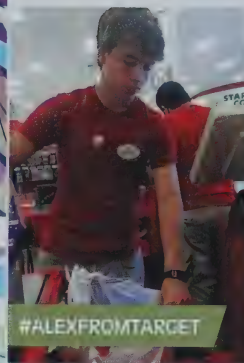

White and gold or black and blue — the dress debate divided the Internet. X-35 JET Lockheed worked on a supersonic jet that would travel across the U.S. in 2.5 hours and hold 80 passengers. UBER The taxi alternative app made the list of Apple's most popular. THE MAN BUN A trending hairstyle was the self-explanatory man bun. Harry Styles was among the men who sported one. ROYAL TWEETS Queen Elizabeth expanded her technological horizons and joined Twitter in October. GAS PRICES The price of gas dipped below $2 in several states; the lowest it had been since 2009. GOOGLE GLASS Google decided to take their first-version technology wearables off the market. APPLE ADVANCES Apple attracted attention with the announcement of the iWatch and iPay, and they broke the previous record for pre-order sales with the iPhone 6. BEATS AND APPLE Apple bought out Beats by Dre and nearly tripled his net worth — more than he ever made, even while on tour. WEARABLES Technology textiles became reality — like these that were worn to track health and workout habits. MINECRAFT Microsoft bought Minecraft developer Mojang for $2.5 billion after the game sold 16.5 million copies. BAE The popular slang word popped up in Pharrell's hit song and had people speculating what it meant. "Before Anyone Else" was one common explanation. TESLA As the electric car company aimed to increase brand awareness, Tesla charging stations began popping up all over the U.S.

BIG

TIME

THE BIG BROTHER Google took over the largest billboard in Times Square with a 7769 x 529.65 foot Mitsubishi Electric display. The record-breaking billboard took up an entire block on Broadway.

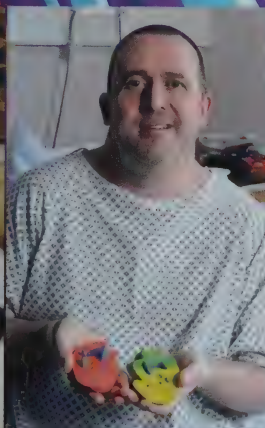

INSTANT TWITTER FAME

An everyday Twitter user posted this photo of an ordinary Target cashier and it instantly went viral. Alex Lee, @ac163, went from around 144 Twitter followers to more than 600,000 and even made an appearance on the Ellen DeGeneres Show.

CAMERA CRAZY...

SELFIES ON A STICK These new devices gained popularity because they allowed users to take photos, specifically selfies, in a more inclusive way. However, many popular museums like New York's MoMA banned the selfie sticks for visitor safety and protection of the art. DRONES AND PRIVACY President Obama issued an Executive Order regarding the federal use of drones and the privacy concerns that followed. Obama said drones "may play a transformative role in fields as diverse as urban infrastructure management, farming, public safety... and disaster response." AMAZON AND GOPRO Leading into the holidays, Amazon announced its number one selling camera — the GoPro, a wearable type of camera often used when performing high-action sports like skiing, motorsports and other extreme outdoor activities.

The Art of 3D Printing

IN THE KITCHEN Culinary technologies like the Foodini and ChefJet advanced and increased the odds of 3D printing your food and desserts. IN THE OPERATING ROOM John Cousins began a 3D printing business and used it to create replicas of his kidneys to help doctors operate on him when he had appendicitis.

VORNADO

Developed by the same creator as Halo, the game made more than $500 million the day it was released, making it the best-selling video game ever.

A sequel to the first Bayonetta, the game was published by Nintendo for Wii U and was awarded a Forbes Gold Award.

The popular kart racing game, released worldwide in May, won a Forbes

Gold Award and took the number five spot on Time's "Top 10 Best Video Games of the Year" list.

north korean hack on sony

OBAMA WITH THE INTERVIEW

Sony Pictures was hacked in late November and North Korea was immediately blamed because of Sony's plan to release the comedy, The Interview, featuring an assassination attempt on supreme leader Kim Jong Un. North Korea denied the claim, but the FBI later confirmed that they were indeed behind the hack. Sony decided not to release the film after North Korea threatened violent attacks on the U.S. When Obama called the hack an act of cyber vandalism, the film was shown on Christmas Day in 330 independent theaters and was available for streaming online for just $5.99. The movie made $15 million in its first four days of release.

Books, Books & More Books

GIRL ONLINE 24-year-old Zoe Sugg started out posting beauty and fashion videos on YouTube, and then wrote her first novel Girl Online, which sold more copies in its first week than any other UK-released debut novel.

TOP READS The year's young adult fiction tended to focus on relatable, real-life situations; popular titles included I'll Give You The Sun by Jandy Nelson, Belzhar by Meg Wolitzer, Brown Girl Dreaming by Jacqueline Woodson and We Were Liars by E. Lockhart.

Movies & Television

MOVIE The show received Best and Favorite Animated TV Show on the Teen Choice and People's Choice Awards and celebrated its 25th year on-air.

MOVIE The John Green novel turned into a movie released in June. It made $124,872,350 at the box office.

AMERICAN FAMILY The ABC show won three Emmys, including Outstanding Supporting Actor with Ty Burrell as Phil Dunphy.

THE HUNGER GAMES Mockingjay Part I was the highest grossing film of the year, raking in $336 million.

THE MENTALIST Jim Parsons won an Emmy for Outstanding Lead Actor; the show also earned three separate honors at the Teen Choice and People's Choice Awards.

ENTERTAINMENT The comedian won Favorite Daytime TV Host at the People's Choice Awards.

GUARDIANS OF THE GALAXY The PG-13 film hit theaters in August and was the second highest grossing film of the year.

AMERICAN UNDERDOG Starring Bradley Cooper, this film made more than $280 million the month following its wide release.

PRETTY LITTLE LIARS The ABC drama won Teen Choice Award's Best Drama and People's Choice Favorite Cable TV Drama.

SNL The show celebrated its 40th anniversary in February with big-name appearances and hilarious skits.

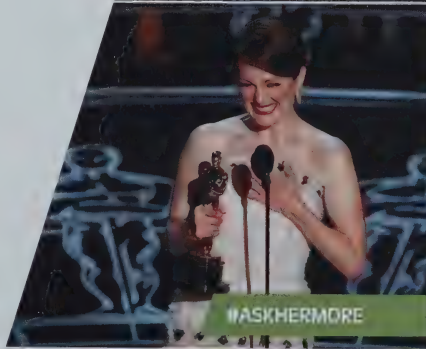

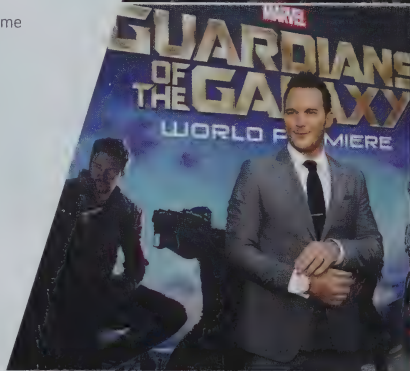

BEST ACTRESS Julianne Moore won an Oscar for her talented portrayal in Still Alice.

BEST ACTOR Eddie Redmayne won a coveted Oscar for his intense performance in The Theory of Everything.

JOHN STEWART The television host announced his decision to leave The Daily Show after 17 years of anchoring the show.

BEST ANIMATED FEATURE Big Hero 6 won an Oscar; the movie featured a large inflatable robot and a team of high-tech heroes.

WOLFEHART Starring Angelina Jolie, this movie won Favorite Movie/Favorite Family Movie at the People's Choice Awards.
